

Bidvest Noonan appoints new Compliance and Risk Director

November 16, 2021

Mark Elton has been chosen to be Bidvest Noonan's Compliance and Risk Director for operations in Great Britain.

Mark previously held the role of Quality, Risk and Compliance Director at Cordant Services, which became part of the Bidvest Noonan group in May of this year.

Bidvest Noonan employs 27,000 staff to provide people-driven solutions across the UK and Ireland. Its core offering for rail includes cleaning and security services.

Bidvest Noonan says Mark's appointment to the senior management team follows two years of growth for the company

Simon Giles, CFO, said, "Mark has deep expertise in his field. As part of our senior management team, Mark will help us to continue improving our performance and strengthen our leadership position in Great Britain."

Mark, who has 25 years of industry experience, said: "I'm delighted to take on this new and exciting role and to support our wider group. I'm looking forward to working with my new colleagues to take this outstanding business from strength to strength."
