August 27, 2021

The move will come as part of its growth into the wider UK. Complimenting a consistent supply of projects across London and the South East, the company has won more work across the West Midlands, North West and South West regions in the recent months.

It is also due to move its UK Head Office from Waterloo to Uxbridge this August. This will take Crewit Resourcing's offices to 6 across Europe including; Dublin, Porto, Chişinău and Kosovo.

Gary O'Keeffe, Chief Executive Officer, said: "Relocating to Uxbridge and opening the new office in Birmingham will provide our candidates and clients with a holistic coverage of the entire UK.

"This means more opportunities for our candidates to work, and a wider range of experienced labour for our clients."

The business will be operating as normal during the move. From 2nd August, pre-arranged appointments and registrations started taking place at the new office addresses listed on its website. All finance and communication documentation should be sent to the new London, UK (Head Office) address from this date.

About Crewit Resourcing

Crewit Resourcing is a recruitment agency that bridges the gap between a traditional labour agency and an in-house resourcing team. It is a technical recruitment agency specialising in helping rail, construction and facility management companies deliver successful projects.

The organisation accomplishes this by providing a consultative approach to resourcing requirements helping construction managers, site managers, project managers and quality surveyors source, manage and pay workers in a hands-off way.

Gary added: “You tell us your requirements, and with our knowledge and processes, we deliver workforce to your site.

“This allows you to deliver your projects on time and on budget, winning you future works. We have a proven track record and in over six years we have built a network of more than 5,000 candidates across the world, meaning we can source the very best candidates for the job you need doing.

“By working with your team, our managed recruitment service will deliver the cost-saving of an in-house resourcing team with the flexibility of a traditional labour agency.”
