Derby-based Tidyco, supplier of hydraulic and pneumatic products including overhaul services to the UK rail industry, has signed a partnership extension with German-based MAHLE Industrial Thermal Systems as its UK distributor.

In April, Tidyco signed an agreement with MAHLE Industrial Thermal Systems GmbH & Co. KG (part of MAHLE GmbH), appointing Tidyco as the sole UK representative for its thermal management components for the railway market.

- Derby-based company Tidyco receives ISO 14001 accreditation
- Tidyco invests in the acquisition and renovation of a neighbouring unit

This agreement comes off the back of the original strategic partnership, which was initially signed at the beginning of 2020, when Tidyco was originally appointed as a representative for HVAC components on a number of specific projects, after winning a contract with a major train manufacturing company for the overhaul and repair of cab HVAC units.

The new agreement is not only a testament to Tidyco's commitment and ease of doing business but also the reliability and quality of British engineering.

Paul Jacks, Tidyco Rail Director, said: "This partnership extension really does go to show the amount of effort and determination put in by the rail division team.

"We look forward to a long-lasting and productive working relationship with MAHLE as our overhaul department goes from strength to strength."
