

Ed Balls topping the bill at NSAR's upcoming Skills Symposium

November 15, 2022

A promotional banner for the Skills Symposium. It features a dark background with a faint image of a city skyline. The title 'SKILLS SYMPOSIUM' is prominently displayed in large, bold, yellow and white letters. Below the title, the date and location are listed. A paragraph describes the event's focus on social value, diversity, inclusion, and sustainability, mentioning Ed Balls as the keynote speaker and Neil Robertson as the chair. Two circular portraits of Ed Balls and Neil Robertson are shown on the right. A yellow button with the text 'REGISTER NOW' is located at the bottom left. The NSAR logo is in the top right corner.

SKILLS SYMPOSIUM

Friday | 25 November | 2022
Church House, Westminster

There will be a keynote speech by Ed Balls with Q&A as well as a panel discussion on Social Value –incorporating diversity, inclusion and sustainability. This panel will be chaired by Neil Robertson.

Ed Balls
Guest Speaker

Neil Robertson
Chief Executive, NSAR

REGISTER NOW

NSAR

NSAR is inviting professionals from across the rail and construction sector to join them at a Skills Symposium, on Friday, 25 November.

The event, which is taking place at Church House, Westminster, features a keynote speech from former Chancellor of the Exchequer Ed Balls, who will also be taking questions from the audience.

A panel discussion on the theme of social value will also be held, looking at diversity, inclusion, and sustainability. The panel will be chaired by NSAR's CEO Neil Robertson, who will be joined by; Joe Holland, head of human resources at Transpennine Route Upgrade, Natalie Penrose, head of legacy at HS2 Ltd and Michelle Russell, head of workforce analytics at NSAR.

The event is free to attend, you can register on the NSAR website here.