

Geobear strengthens infrastructure division with appointment of new Director

April 19, 2024

Geobear has announced the appointment of Paul Garthwaite as the new Director of its Infrastructure Division, marking a significant step in the company's ongoing growth and leadership in ground improvement solutions. With an impressive track record at Arcadis, Paul brings extensive experience in leading diverse teams across major infrastructure disciplines.

During this period of expansion, Paul's expertise will be instrumental in advancing Geobear's business strategy, enhancing client relationships, and driving growth in key sectors such as rail, highways, aviation, and commercial industries.

Simon Hughes, Managing Director for Geobear UK, said: "We are excited to welcome Paul to our leadership team. His knowledge and proven ability to foster growth in our core markets make him an invaluable asset. Paul's leadership qualities are exactly what Geobear needs as we continue to innovate and lead in geopolymer technology applications.”