

Leading rail expert Jason Durk joins 3Squared as Principal Consultant

July 12, 2021

3Squared is pleased to announce the appointment of leading rail expert Jason Durk as Principal Consultant. At a time of real growth and opportunity for the company, Jason's key objective at 3Squared will be to nurture and develop the sales and engagement department.

Jason brings with him a wealth of experience from across the rail sector, having worked in the industry for close to 27 years at the Rail Delivery Group (RDG) and several train operating companies (TOCs), including Govia Thameslink Railway (GTR) and CACI Ltd. At 3Squared, Jason will work closely with the sales and engagement team to develop and cultivate new relationships with passenger rail companies. This role is vital in enabling 3Squared to expand even further and given the complexities of the industry, Jason's appointment is a real boost for the business.

Since its inception in 2002, the Sheffield-based rail technology and software development consultancy has scaled its work both in the UK and internationally, to deliver innovative ground-breaking technological solutions for customers and become leading specialists in the development of mobile and web apps for major clients across the construction, rail and manufacturing sectors.

Holding long established strategic partnerships with key technology providers, 3Squared aim to create integrated and robust solutions that cater to companies' individual needs. This experience combined with Jason's rich expertise, signals an exciting future for the company as the industry moves towards the creation of a digital railway.

Tim Jones, Managing Director and Co-Founder of 3Squared, commented: "We are excited for Jason to join the team at a truly exciting point in our journey. It has been an exciting year for the business, from our work with HS2 to developing new and exciting products, and now with Jason's extensive knowledge we look forward to seeing what's in store for the future at 3Squared."
