

Rail Aid Auction Means Business

November 18, 2021

Commercial Value Lots are Big Business

Rail Aid's auction has over 130 auction lots, with new lots still coming in. Many lots have a commercial value and are items that money can't buy. Here's a glimpse of a few packages targeted at businesses, that are on course to be the mega fundraisers for Railway Children.

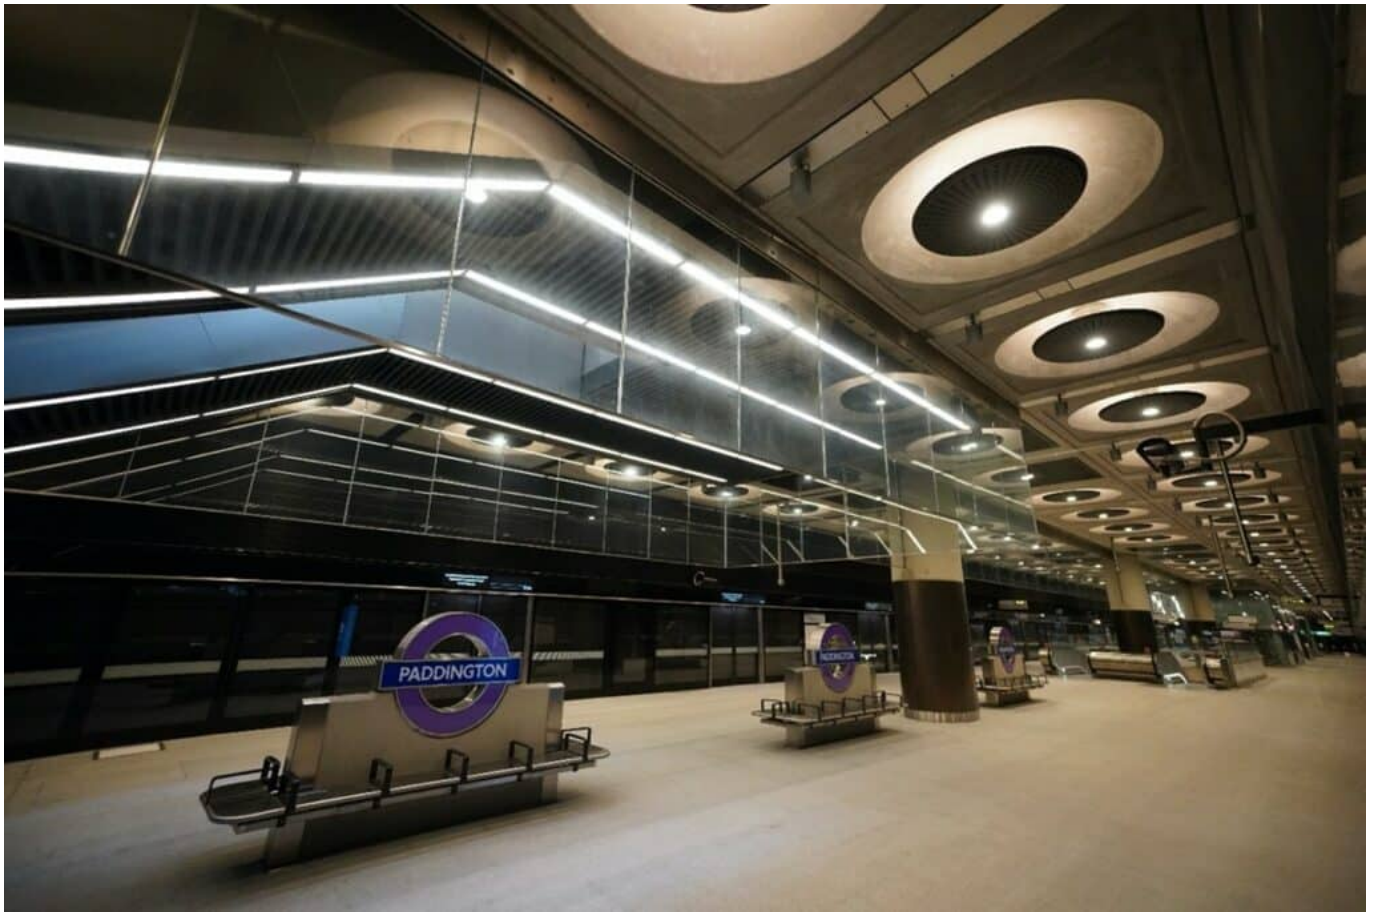

Exclusive Dinner with UK Rail Bosses

A unique opportunity for 7-10 guests to dine with the Rail Aid Ambassadors. Dinner party guests include Network Rail Chair & CEO Sir Peter Hendy CBE and Andrew Haines, TfL Commissioner Andy Byford and HS2 CEO Mark Thurston, along with other Rail Aid Ambassadors.

London Underground, Network Rail & Trainline Advertising

Calling all marketers and media agencies. Not one, but a choice of three advertising packages, are in this year's auction. These are big ticket items with a combined value of over £300,000, that could be picked up for a bargain price.

Exclusive Crossrail Tour with COO Howard Smith

A once in a lifetime opportunity for four people to go behind the scenes at Crossrail. Travel on an Elizabeth Line train from Paddington to Liverpool Street. Experience a personal tour of the Elizabeth Line part of Liverpool Street Station.

Sir Peter Hendy CBE as your Bus Driver

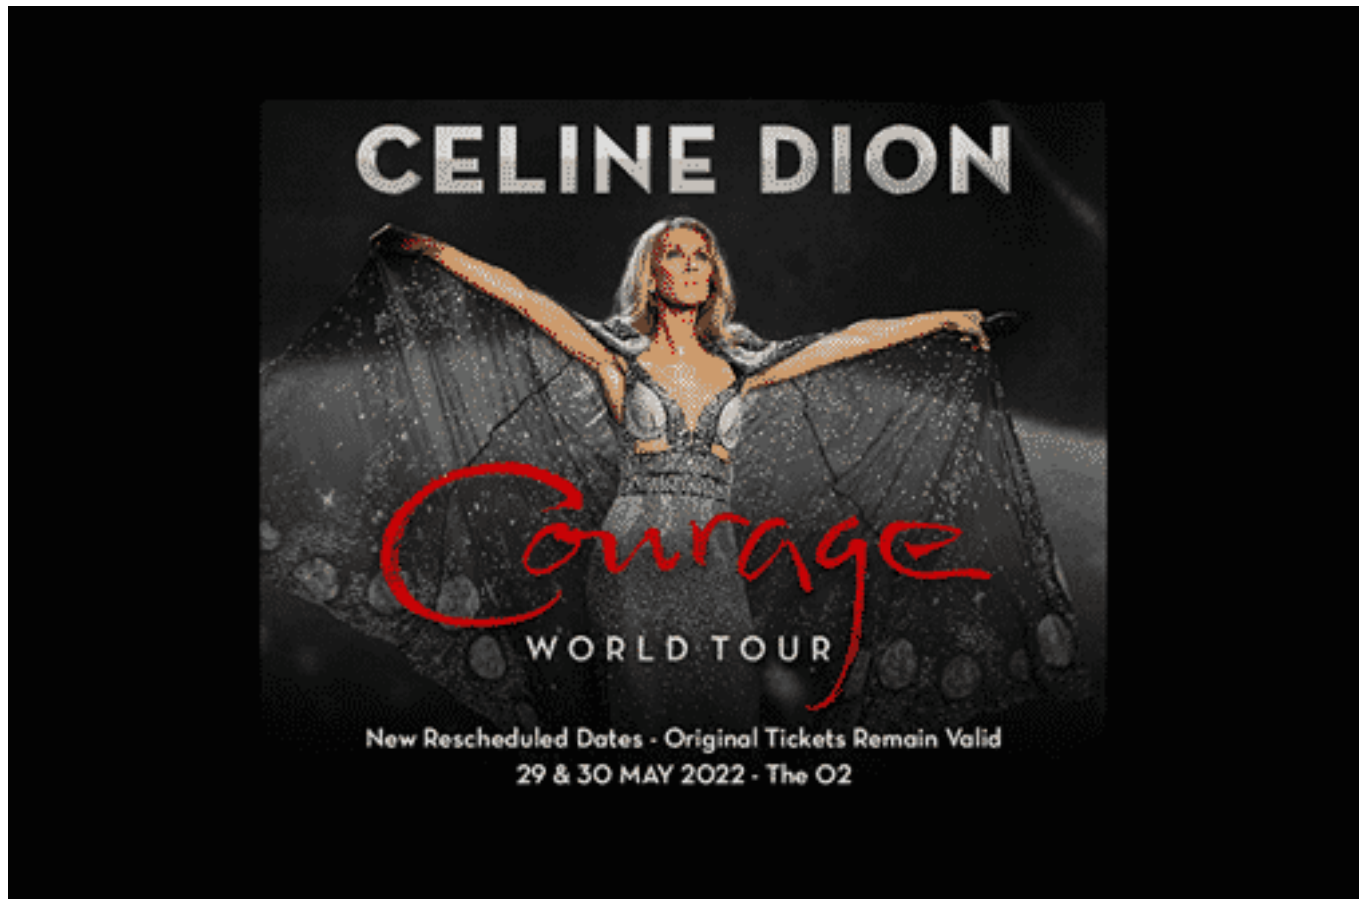

Back by popular demand. Network Rail Chair, Sir Peter Hendy CBE will take up to 64 colleagues, friends, or clients out on his own Routemaster bus to see the key sights of London – a unique and not to be forgotten experience.
