

Rail charity has an amazing year despite huge challenges

February 25, 2021

As a charity the last 12 months has hit Railway Children hard, as it has for most organisations and especially those relying on public good will. But at Railway Children the fundraising has continued throughout - with extra emergency appeals sent out, huge virtual events organised and multiple changes to deal with.

And thanks to the huge support they've always had from friends and colleagues across the rail industry, the charity has achieved some incredible things.

This short film shares some of those highlights with you - it's an incredible achievement and you should feel proud of the part you've played in changing children's lives in these difficult times.
