

RBDStride takes a major leap forward with new appointment

March 3, 2022

RBDStride, the rail industry's recruitment partner, has made a new addition to its team.

Hayley Burns stepped aboard RBDStride this week and will focus on providing top-tier recruiting resources to some of the biggest businesses in the sector. These bigger businesses often need extra help with volume recruitment, and Hayley will assist by tapping into a network of 300,000 RBDStride contacts.

Hayley has built up a strong career in recruitment – often through helping clients with large numbers of vacancies find the candidates that they need. She will be a familiar face for RBDStride customers, having been an integral part of the business in past years.

Now, having gathered even more experience and insight, she is ready to add her know-how to RBDStride once more as it continues to go from strength to strength.

David James, RBDStride's engineering programme lead, said: "I'm delighted that Hayley has returned to the RBDStride team, she has a huge amount of experience working in the engineering recruitment sector, and she is a fantastic addition to the team."

“Hayley really will help to strengthen up RBDStride’s proposition by increasing our delivery capacity to some of our larger key clients. As we continue to grow and add new clients, it is important that we have the right people on board to provide the level of service that we are known for.”

With two new appointments to the team already in 2022 and with a growing client base, including some of the sector’s biggest employers, RBDStride is fast becoming the go-to provider for search and select recruitment services for the rail sector.

This unique recruitment collaboration couples the expertise and experience of Stride Resourcing with Rail Business Daily’s reach and profiling capabilities to provide a powerful solution for the rail sector.
