

TVS Supply Chain Solutions releases White Paper

May 22, 2023

TVS Supply Chain Solutions have created a White Paper on the future of the UK rail industry. “White Paper For A New Rail Network” highlights the issues facing the industry and TVS Supply Chain Solution’s track record of implementing transformational step change and supply chain innovation for a variety of cross-sector global clients.

Steve Welch, commercial manager, said: “The White Paper looks at the challenges facing the industry, how to create Supply Chain resilience and the ways in which TVS SCS would change the supply chain model from Just In Time to Just Right. We want to provoke a discussion about what an optimum supply chain solution might look like in a sector that is already looking to embrace change and technology better.”

TVS SCS have specific knowledge and expertise in developing and delivering supply chain solutions for a wide range of industries, including automotive, beverage, industrial, rail, utilities and defence sectors. This allows TVS SCS to utilise the best practices from these respective sectors to benefit our collective customer base.
