

VINCI Construction UK appoints new Midlands Regional Director

July 7, 2021

VINCI Construction UK has announced the appointment of Andrew Astley as Regional Director for the Midland's construction region. Andrew has replaced Michael Roadnight who has retired following a long and successful career of 19 years with the company.

Andrew brings with him a wealth of construction and planning experience and an in-depth understanding of the Midlands construction market.

Andrew Astley said: "I'm excited by this opportunity in taking the lead role in our regional senior team. Michael has done a fantastic job for the Midlands region.

"I look forward to continuing to build long-term relationships with our clients and supporting the Midlands team to further success."

Photo credit: VINCI Construction UK