RailBusinessDaily

VTG Rail UK appoints new Operations Director

March 22, 2022

Keith Link is the new operations director at VTG Rail UK.

Keith joins VTG having established a successful career in the automotive industry where he gained extensive skills and experience, including in the management of multisite operations and asset performance for businesses across mainland Europe.

Colin Denman, managing director of VTG Rail UK, said: "I am delighted to welcome Keith to VTG Rail UK. Keith has enjoyed a successful career in senior operational roles and is a highly effective team leader. It's important to me that as a rail company we continue to learn best practice from other sectors, and I am confident that Keith's considerable experience in the automotive industry will bring fresh ideas and continue to drive us forward as the UK's leading wagon provider."

Keith added: "I'm really pleased to join the VTG Rail UK team. This is a new challenge for me and one that I am relishing as I haven't worked in the rail industry before. In particular I'm very much looking forward to working with each member of my team. They all have exceptional skills and experience and, together, we'll look forward to driving VTG Rail UK to even greater heights."