

XEIAD appoints new head of commercial

September 13, 2022

XEIAD has appointed Sunny Virk as its head of commercial.

He has a wealth of experience in commercial and contract management having most recently worked at HS2 where he was heavily involved at a senior level in various aspects of the Commercial and Contract lifecycle and has worked on a number of major infrastructure projects dealing with contracts in excess of £1billion.

XEIAD is a civil engineering consultancy specialising in difficult access. We are engineers with extensive experience in rope access, diving and confined spaces
